BRYAN IN ROW WITH MACK TODAY

Jangle Initiated Meeting of Democratic National Committee

BALTIMORE AND ST. LOUIS BATTLE FOR CONVENTION

Bryan and La Follette Confer Over Direct Election of U. S. Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Bryan was defeated before the National Democratic committee when Guffy of Pennsylvania was seated over his protest. He backed Palmer's fight against the Pennsylvania. He lost in a vote of twenty-nine to eighteen.

Wrangle Opened Meeting
A personal encounter of committee-man Guffy and Congressman Palmer of Pennsylvania was narrowly averted. In executive session Palmer declared himself officially elected committee-man. "That's a lie," Guffy cried. Committee men prevented hostilities.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Strife marked the assembling of the Democratic National Committee today. When the first name of the committee list was called, W. J. Bryan moved that James Weatherly of Alabama be seated, whereas Chairman Mack was incensed. He ruled the motion to be unnecessary. Weatherly being regularly elected. A point of order was called and Mack's ruling was sustained. Bryan appealed and a squabble ensued. A motion for an executive session was carried and the doors thereupon closed to outsiders.

The moving spirits in the meeting are Tom Taggart, Charles Murphy and Roger Sullivan of Chicago. The trio conferred together, agreeing to force Taggart's election as chairman of the convention arrangements committee. Taggart's election would probably enable the old guard to control the primary election. He is expected to throw his support to Judson Harmon. The Wilsonites are planning to fight.

The advocates of the presidential preference primary are confident of success. A resolution providing for such a primary, is identical to that of the Republican National Committee rejected.

St. Louis and Baltimore are contending for the National Democratic convention. Baltimore offers $150,000 for the meet and appears to be leading.

LA FOLLETTE DENIES TALK WITH BRYAN ON THIRD PARTY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator La Follette unequivocally denied his reported meeting with W. J. Bryan at the union station regarding plans for a third party.

"Evidently I can't shake hands without such reports. We discussed only pending plans for direct senatorial elections, which we both advocate," said La Follette.

FISHER IN FAVOR OF LEASING PLAN

Interior Secretary Declares
For Overhauling of Alaska Conditions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Enlarged application of the leasing principle, as applied to the public domain, especially a liberal law for the development of the mineral and coal resources of Alaska, and immediate consideration by congress of the whole subject of water power development and control, are the most important recommendations contained in the annual report of Secretary of the Interior Fisher, made public yesterday.

A general overhauling of conditions in Alaska is needed, the Secretary says. He favors a law for the retirement of government employees, placing it on the ground of good business policy. He urges the creation of a bureau of national parks, each of them at present being "a separate and distinct unit for administrative purposes."

There is also serious need, he declared, for the enlargement of the work of the bureau of mines. "The great public movement for the conservation of our national resources," says Secretary Fisher, "is not in any way opposed to prompt and wise development of the public domain. The essential thing is to see that, under the guise of settlement, we do not permit more exploitation."

Lawson Urges Death Penalty For Richeson

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—The sentencing of Rev. C. V. T. Richeson was postponed until tomorrow, following a conference between District Attorney Pelletier and Governor Foss. It is believed this was done to permit Richeson's attorneys to present reasons for commutation if he should be sentenced to death.

The courtroom was crowded before the postponement of sentence was announced. All apparently favored the death penalty.

Thomas W. Lawson wrote to District Attorney Pelletier urging the death sentence. He said: "For God's sake and humanity's sake adhere to your stand. Otherwise our wives, mothers and daughters are helpless. Better a thousand times that we of the chilly-blooded North take example from our unbridled brothers of the South, and lynch and hack and burn, than to stand idly permitting ulcer-brained sentimentalists to sully the highways, schools and churches. It seems possible that the sentimentalists' visions will drive fathers, husbands and brothers to make the rope, gun and torch companions to the plow and the Bible."

COUNTY SHOULD JOIN FIGHT FOR ROAD

Winfield Hogaboom Thinks
This Section Should Join San Diego in Project

INTERSTATE ROUTE IS IN CONTROVERSY

San Diego Booster Here Boosting For Meeting to Be Held This Week

Winfield Hogaboom, director of publicity of the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego, was in Santa Ana today boosting for the San Diego-Imperial-Yuma Highway Association. He was also here for the purpose of urging a roadly attendance at the Panama Exposition Counties Committee meeting in Los Angeles on Friday and Saturday. That committee is especially organized to boost for harbors, immigration and exposition. W. W. Wilson is Orange county's representative on the committee.

The San Diego-Imperial-Yuma Highway Association has an object in view that should meet with the approval of this county. Its object is to secure the routing and building of an interstate highway from San Diego to Yuma. The highway is expected to run on through Arizona and New Mexico, with the association, of which Hogaboom is secretary and J. W. Jackson president, reaches only to Yuma.

There seems to be a big pull toward getting the highway routed through Banning and along the Salton Sea. Hogaboom declares that road would be much harder to build and keep up than the southern road. He points to the experience of Bert Smith of the Los Angeles Times, in a racing car, taking nineteen hours to cover a stretch along Salton Sea. If the San Diego route is secured, this county will be on the road for interstate travel.

The association is ready to show that San Diego will build the southern road from San Diego to the Imperial line. Imperial has no great amount of money to work on at this time, but the association believes the State Highway Commission could aid Imperial. At any rate, the state would be called on to aid the northern route, and probably the San Diego plan would be the least expensive of the two for the state.

Hogaboom will probably take steps to have the matter brought before the next meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, with the hope that Orange county will take steps to become associated in the work of the San Diego-Imperial-Yuma Highway Association.

TAFT ONCE MORE DECIDES ON HOOK FOR JUSTICESHIP

LATER REPORTS SHOW SLIGHT DAMAGE

Orange County Said to Have Gotten Off Remarkably Light With Frost

EXPERTS EXAMINING CITRUS ORCHARDS

Both Optimistic and Pessimistic Views Are Expressed in Los Angeles

Orange and lemon growers all over Southern California are deeply interested in any news concerning the damage done by the frosts in the latter part of December. In Orange County the early reports were that the oranges were not injured, some lemons were nipped and there was damage done to nursery stock. All later reports indicate that the report that there was no damage to oranges was correct. Those who have been over the citrus orchards of this county for comparison with the orchards of neighboring counties state that the outward show of frost in this county is very slight indeed in comparison to the other counties.

Last Friday two Santa Anas made a trip of inspection through Santa Ana, Tustin, El Modena, Orange, Placentia, Fullerton and Anaheim. They cut open literally hundreds of oranges, and found no frost damaged fruit. In spots they found the tender growth on trees whitened, and in some sections nursery stock hard hit, and in others it escaped damage.

The Los Angeles Times yesterday had the following review of the Southern California situation as a whole:

There is no subject perhaps agitating Southern California more generally or deeply at the present time than the amount of damage to the citrus fruit crop by the frosts of December. The anxiety persists because of the impossibility, even at this date, to ascertain with anything near accuracy the exact amount of damage. The Citrus Union has a force of investigators in the field looking into all the orchards. They will be ready to report probably by the middle of next week. With this report before the public definite information will be at hand on which to base an estimate of the probable crop of the year.

There is no doubt that there has been damage done and that in spots it is severe and will affect a considerable portion of the orange crop of the section. At places the frost was as severe as ever known, the mercury touching 20 degrees Fahrenheit. This was Christmas night. The night following was not so cold, but was probably cold enough to freeze. For three or four days more the thermometer was low. Now this would have been favorable weather following a severe frost, provided the frost did not continue night after night to a severe degree. On this condition everything will be found to depend. If the day after Christmas had been unusually warm with brilliant sunshine, at least half the crop would have been ruined. Frost on fruit is like the Irishman's fall from the ten-story building. It was the stopping that hurt him, and it was the thawing that hurt the oranges. If they thaw slowly, just as in the case of a frozen member of the human body, there is no permanent injury, but if they thaw out quickly, the cells burst, spilling the juices and oils of the fruit.

Not Over Yet

The late cold spell is reported to have been peculiar. These spells always are. Like lightning they never hit the same place twice in succession. Generally low-lying orchards are nipped, but in this case the uplands got the worst of it. In the same orchards many trees escaped almost entirely while in others the fruit was frozen. Where the sun came out strong early next day the oranges show the effects generally and severely. On the north side of the tree, where the sun did not strike, there is less evidence of injury.

The effect of the frost is not over yet. If there should come soon abundant and warm rains a great many of the oranges would recuperate. There is some dispute about this on the part of some experts, but there have been instances where the crop apparently ruined by a heavy frost was found to recover marvelously, yielding a pretty good product months later, the goodness applying to both quantity and quality.

The best informed experts, who have visited the districts differ widely in their views as to the amount of the damage done. Members of the Citrus Union have come to the conclusion from their own observations and from partial reports from the forces in the field, that when the final account is made at the end of the crop season, the damage to the whole crop may not amount to more than 20 per cent. Basing this calculation on the output of the last crop year, this would mean a loss of eight

WEATHER BITTER IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Conditions Improve in the Middle West
—Chicago Gets Relief—Below Zero Widespread—Cold Moving East.

PORTLAND, Jan. 8.—Zero weather prevails in eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Railroads are blocked in the blue mountains by snow, which is a foot deep at Spokane. Telegraph and telephone wires are down. The "silver thaw" continues. The damage is estimated at $300,000.

PORTLAND, Jan. 8.—A heavy snow storm this morning mitigated the cold here.

COLD ABATES IN MINNESOTA AND IOWA—MERCURY RISES

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The cold has slightly abated, with less suffering in the country districts. The schools here have been reopened. Snows have fallen throughout Southern Minnesota and Iowa, mitigating the cold. There is a general rise of temperature of five to ten degrees.

SNOW FALLS IN CHICAGO AND

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The mercury is eight above zero today and snow is falling. Distress is being alleviated. Eight deaths have taken place in the last few days. Middle Western conditions are slightly improved, but colder weather is predicted.

Deaths from cold here are fourteen. Increasing snows are making all trains from ten to twenty-four hours late. The charities are preparing for a renewal of activity against the cold wave expected tomorrow.

New York Conditions Improve

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Improvement in cold conditions was felt today. Charity organizations today are able to care for all applicants. The free cold dispensary has been reopened.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—The mercury dropped to thirty below today. Predictions are for colder weather tomorrow.

MIDDLE WEST HAS BEEN IN ICY GRIP OF RECORD WEATHER

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Sixteen deaths to ten thousand carloads, including both oranges and lemons and would leave a crop for the season of something like 25,000 carloads, or the equal of the season before last. It is generally conceded that the lemons, being in more sheltered places where this frost did not touch, suffered comparatively little.

Perhaps Half

Independent investigators outside of the Citrus Union, in some cases at least, take a very different view. Their views are pessimistic compared with the judgment of the others. Some of these who have gone carefully over all districts are of the positive opinion that at least half the orange crop will be lost. Persons with this view express the earnest hope that they are wrong and to this aspiration all Californians will say "Amen." If they are right then the crop of the season cannot reach much above 20,000 carloads.

The proper view to take, probably, is that the two views are probably extremes and when the facts are actually obtained, they are likely to lie somewhere midway.

The association officials are taking all possible precautions to prevent the shipping to eastern markets of fruit that is seriously damaged. They have made a rule that any carload arriving at central points of distribution which show more than 5 per cent of bad fruit shall be unwrapped, re-sorted, re-wrapped, and then shipped to some other city in order to protect the reputation of the particular brand and of the California orange crop generally. The shipper who greedily attempts to get a little money out of the sale of poor fruit will find this expense heavy.

HAVOC AT SEA AMONG WAR SHIPS

Destroyer "Terry" Found By
"Salem" After Quest Was Thought Hopeless

OTHER VESSELS DAMAGED BY POUNDING OF WAVES

Two Sailors Lost From "Salem"—"Dixie" Towed in—Ice Sheathed War Ships

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 8.—The scout cruiser "Salem" has located the torpedo boat destroyer "Terry" in latitude thirty-seven degrees, fifteen minutes west, and longitude sixty-six degrees, twenty-five minutes, north, according to a wireless sent to the Navy yard.

QUEST FOR "TERRY" WAS CONSIDERED AS HOPELESS

The "Terry" was wallowing helplessly with her oil and provisions exhausted when she was rescued. She is being towed to Hampton Roads. The storm is now abating. The damage to the battleship fleet is heavy. Reports that ten sailors were killed are untrue. Two were killed and twenty injured. The supply ship Dixie sustained the heaviest damage. The extent of the loss is not known.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Missing for forty-eight hours off Cape Hatteras, the torpedo boat destroyer Terry is believed to have foundered. Four battleships, a revenue cutter and two gunboats have been searching without results. No answer to wireless messages has been received.

GREAT SHIPS OF ATLANTIC FLEET HARRIED BY STORM

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The United States torpedo boat destroyer "Terry" was the object of search last night by the vessels of the navy, reported adrift and disabled in the gale of Friday with three commissioned officers and 83 enlisted men.

Practically every vessel of the Atlantic fleet afloat on the Atlantic ocean Friday was injured more or less. The cruiser Dixie was taken in tow for Bermuda by two battleships, so had were injuries; the dreadnaught Delaware lost a steam launch and two life boats; the Salem lost two sailors and was the worst damaged of any of the twenty-two ships of the fleet on their way for maneuvers at Guantanamo, Cuba. All of them were coated with ice from stem to stern. Many of the sailors are reported as injured by the fury of the gale throwing them about on the hard steel decks. Water from the high seas is said to have poured into the smoke stacks of some of the smaller vessels.

The fate of the torpedo flotilla with the fifth division of the fleet was a cause of anxiety last night, but one boat had been definitely heard from, although several have been reported as putting in at Bermuda.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The owners of Caxton Hall, Westminster, advertised for a hallkeeper who could show testimonials for faithfulness, honesty, tact and intelligence. The job was worth $8.75 a week and 2200 applications were received. Of these 900 had credentials which were beyond reproach. The man who got the job is an Oxford graduate.

Whose Roof Do You Live Under?

paid. At the end of a few years the home will be yours, whereas the renter will have a stack of worthless receipts and a lot of broken and scratched furniture, damaged in moving. Then, too, on your own place you plant a lawn, trees and shrubbery, and, if you choose, put in a garden. On a rented place you wouldn't care to expend money, time and energy only to find that when you had gotten things nicely fixed you'd have to move. Why Not Live Under Your Own?

Why Not Live Under Your Own?

For Homes Ranging in Cost from $1800 to $3500.

For this modest though highly attractive class of homes, the Wakeham Tract is pronounced ideal. The lots range in price from $550 to $750, with building restrictions of $1200—that is, no house can be built costing less than $1200. And while many will be built costing more than $1200, none is apt to be so pretentious as to make even the least in cost seem dwarfed or out of place. Neatness, good taste, economy and convenience will mark the neighborhood. All houses must be an equal distance from the street—east fronts 20 feet and west fronts 18 feet.

All Street and Side- walk Work Is In- cluded in the Price of Lots

The owners of the Wakeham Tract now have a large force of men engaged in grading and laying streets and sidewalks, and this work will all be paid for by the present owners of the tract; it is included in the prices of the lots, as above quoted, from $550 to $750. The sidewalks will be the best of concrete and cement work, and the streets will be oil and gravel. Hickey street will be oiled and graveled all the way to Main, and Orchard street (which is a continuation of Tenth street) will be opened through to Parton. The cement walks will be five feet wide with parkings feet wide, containing beautiful 12-year-old walnut trees for shade, ornament and nuts.

All the lots are set to these beautiful soft-shell walnut trees, and the trees that can be left standing will, with proper care, go a long way towards paying insurance and taxes.

SIZES OF LOTS: Lots fronting west on Flower street, commencing at Hickey street, the first two are each 76½ feet front; all others in this row 70-feet front; the whole row being 75 feet deep. The first lot, at the corner of Hickey street, in the row fronting east on Garnsey street, is 65 feet front, and all others in this row are 54 feet front; the entire row being 109 feet deep. The first lot (165 feet north of Hickey) in the row fronting west on Garnsey is 62 feet front, the others in this row being 54 feet front, and all 105½ feet deep.

Why not live under your own? Almost any one can own his home. It requires very little capital for the first payment, and thereafter the monthly payments are about the same as the ordinary rental

SEWER, GAS AND WATER PIPES WILL BE LAID IN THE STREETS AND LATERALS CARRIED TO THE PROPERTY LINE OF EACH AND EVERY LOT AT THE COST OF THE OWNERS OF THE TRACT. SO THERE WILL BE NO TEARING UP OF THE STREETS AND NO COST TO PURCHASERS OF LOTS FOR MAKING CONNECTIONS OUTSIDE OF THE PROPERTY LINES. TRACT WILL BE RAPIDLY

Tract Will Be Rapidly Built up With Homes

No lot will be sold to anyone who will not agree to commence building within 90 days. This is not a speculative proposition, but distinctly a home building enterprise. There are two houses now under way, and two more will be commenced within a week or ten days. At least three others are assured within 90 days, seven in all now in sight, for that many lots have been sold. Of course the lots will go quickly, and the entire tract will certainly be built up within a year or two at the longest.

Owners Will Build For Lot Purchasers at Cost

The owners of the WAKEHAM TRACT will build houses for lot purchasers, when desired, at actual cost of materials and work, giving the lot purchaser the benefit of all discounts on lumber, lime, brick, stone, plaster, hardware and other building materials, and saving them all contractor's profits, etc. This saving amounts to several hundred dollars on a house costing $1500 to $2000. The owners will also secure for lot purchasers a straight loan at a low rate of interest, or place the loan with one of the local Building & Loan Associations.

AGENTS:—These lots may be purchased of any real estate agent in Orange County. If you are an agent you may present this proposition to your client in perfect confidence; if a purchaser, go to the agent you prefer.

WAKEHAM TRACT

3 BLOCKS TO CAR LINE—9 BLOCKS TO FOURTH AND MAIN—PAVED STREET ALL THE WAY

BRAVE WALTER LOPP TELLS OF FAMOUS REINDEER HERD

Man Who Introduced Hardy Travelers
In Alaska Now :U. S. Guardian of 35,000 Antlered Beasts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A few days ago a short, stalky man with a quiet manner, a skin browned by much outdoor life, and the steady eye of one used to looking across great distances, came to Washington with such small fuss that it was more than a week before the reporters were aware of his presence at all. He is W. T. Lopp, head of the government's school system for Esquimaux, and a man who has spent most of his life since 1830 in Alaska, seldom "coming out," as he calls a trip down to the States.

When Copp went to a Hutter schoolmaster in Indiana; a boy just out of college, when the government sent him and another young man up to Cape Prince of Wales on Behring strait, to start an Eskimauaux school. He expected to remain but two years.

When he went up he and his partner were the only white men living in all of northern Alaska. They went alone into a district where the natives were so dreaded that whal-haunted dogs in the bitter cold of interior Alaska with the food dwindling; he has been in an Eskimauaux hunting boat scuttled by the tusks of an infuriated walrus; he has fearlessly carried law into rough, lawless winter whaling stations in the Arctic ocean; he has faced death in a score of forms. But of all these he will say nothing. He prefers to talk about the government's Alaskan reindeer herd, of which he was the creator, and is the present administrative head.

"We got the idea of importing reindeer from Siberia that first year we were at Cape Prince of Wales," he said. "The country then had a bad reputation. But after we had learned a little more of the Esquimaux language we discovered that most of the trouble between Esquimaux and the whites resulted from ill treatment of the natives. We found them kindly, good natured people, with more native intelligence than Indians have, and eager to learn the white man's ways. Their chief faults were drunkenness and a tendency to steal whatever they could. "We had some trouble with them at first, but we insisted on having our way. When they saw we were absolutely just and fair with them, their attitude changed. We taught them that stealing and drinking were wrong, and they listened to us. Today it would be hard to find a more honest people than the Esquimaux living from Cape Prince of Wales northward, and drunkenness is almost unknown. Also they are the most advanced of the Esquimaux in carrying out our teachings of cleanliness and hygiene.

"That first winter we learned that the Esquimaux wanted to own reindeer, but that the revenue officers would not permit the importation. Some of the natives even owned reindeer in the Siberian herds across the straits. And it seemed a shame that they were forbidden to bring their own property across from Asia, so near that the Siberian heights could be seen over the water on clear days.

"We appealed to Washington for permission to import reindeer. But other government agents had preceded us in this request. Before we had a reply from our letter that summer a revenue cutter put into port with a shipment of reindeer on board. We were overjoyed to know that the prohibition of the law had been removed, and set about getting more.

"In 1892 came the first large importation. We brought in 1200 that year, and from these grew the present herd, scattered throughout Alaska and numbering over 35,000.

"The reindeer policy was gradually evolved. We impress upon the Lapps and Esquimaux that the reindeer are exclusively their property and care. For instance, they are not allowed to sell female reindeer to white men so that the Eskimo animals are to be perpetually in the custody and ownership of the natives.

"We usually establish a reindeer herd wherever we have a native school. The school superintendent has supervision over the herd, although the animals are owned by the natives. When a new herd is to be started, young, ambitious natives are selected as apprentice herders for a four year term. For his first year's services, in addition to his living, the apprentice receives six reindeer; the second year eight, and the third year ten. So that what you may term a journeyman herder owns 34 reindeer. They are then free to breed their animals and sell their calves or stock of any age or sex to the other natives.

"Reindeers are food, clothing and transportation to the natives. As food, reindeer is delicious, resembling both mutton and beef, but more palatable than either. Along in October, when the deer are fat from a summer's feeding on grasses and foliage, they are best for eating. The natives take reindeer tallow and mix red moss berries into it, making a dish that looks like ice cream and which is fine to eat.

"The reindeer finds his food along the ways. He can paw through the snow when tethered out and find moss to eat. He is strong, so the driver can ride. And the reindeer can travel 40 miles a day and keep it up for a week at a time."

Wis., For Burial

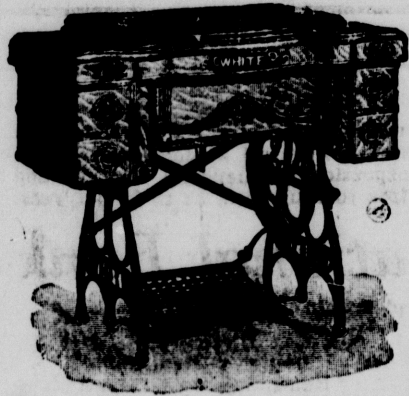

Yesterday Coroner Winbigler held an inquest upon the body of John Bruschke, who was killed Saturday morning when he was struck by a Pacific Electric car between Artesia and West Fifth streets.

The coroner's jury brought in a verdict that the man was "accidentally struck by a car of the Pacific Electric Railway Co., and we find the train crew not responsible." On the jury were G. C. Baker, R. P. Miller, W. S. Nichols, A. P. Hallstrom, J. S. Haywood, C. McNeill, R. S. Dickinson and J. T. Wilson.

The principal witness was Motor-man Messenger, who had great difficulty in concealing his emotion. The accident was the first fatal accident that he has had as motorman.

Messenger said that he was rounding the curve toward Fifth street at the usual rate of speed about thirty miles an hour. On the curve the poles are set but a few yards apart, and from the east the south track is partially hidden for the motorman who is traveling on the north track. Suddenly a man stepped into view from between two of the poles. Messenger clanged his bell and blew his whistle. He was too close to stop the speed of the car. The man apparently was deep in thought. He stepped to the edge of the track and turned his back toward the on-coming car. He was struck and hurled fifty feet, falling between the trestles.

It was brought out that Bruschke had been at work for the Stewart Dredging Co. for about three months. The foreman stated that he thought Bruschke was about 26 years old. He talked little of his relatives. He was not hard of hearing. He was industrious and was not known to be a drinking man. The accident occurred less than two hours before the time for Bruschke to go to work.

Coroner Winbigler sent a telegram to John Bruschke, Fredonia, Wis. The address was found in a note-book that belonged to the dead man. Yesterday the coroner received a reply with instructions that the body be shipped to Fredonia, Wis., for burial. The shipment will be made this afternoon.

KANSANS TO MEET ON JANUARY 29TH

LONG BEACH, Jan. 8.—Fifteen hundred former residents of Kansas are expected to gather in Long Beach on January 29, at the annual picnic of the Kansas Society of California, it being their seventh annual gathering. The speakers secured are Bishop W. A. Quayle, former president of Baker University; Judge John T. Burris of Olathe, one of the framers of the state constitution; George E. Avermeyer, Rev. Frank W. Otto and J. W. Homer, former Jawhaws, but now residents of Los Angeles. Mayor I. S. Hatch will deliver the address of welcome, and the response will be given by O. H. Coulter of Santa Ana. Music will be furnished by the Municipal Band and the Polytechnic High School quartette.

HANDICAPPED

This Is the Case With Many Santa Ana People

Too many Santa Ana citizens are handicapped with bad backs. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys—thousands testify to their merit. Can you doubt Santa Ana evidence?

Mrs. M. W. Davis, 768 Cypress Ave., Santa Ana, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family off and on for several years. The person who has used Doan's Kidney Pills was severely afflicted with kidney trouble, the chief symptom being pains in the back. On a number of occasions he was obliged to quit work, owing to the severeness of the attacks. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store, brought prompt relief and they have been an unflinching means of relief in this case since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A BATTALION FOR COUNTY

Anaheim Man Is Made Captain—Anaheim Schools
Going Ahead

ANAHEIM, Jan. 8.—An important meeting has been held by the U. R. K. P. of this city at which time a battalion was formed for Orange county, exclusively. It numbers Anaheim, Tustin, Orange and Fullerton organizations. Capt. Amstutz of the Anaheim rank was made major of the new battalion, and his successor in the office of captain will be chosen the coming week and it is expected that the first lieutenant, George Eastland, will be advanced.

The Anaheim schools are making the greatest growth in their history this winter in attendance. The gain being made is illustrated in conditions at the Central building, where Miss Virginia F. Baker was added to the corps of teachers. This is the third extra teacher that has been found necessary to add to the force since the opening of the fall term last September. Five classes have been taken from the Central building and placed in new buildings and at the present time the condition is again crowded to such an extent that the city will need additional quarters for the purpose of handling the school children.

WORLD'S BUSINESS BIG; SO ARE TAXES

$163,000,000,000 in Negotiable Papers Used By Nations of the Earth

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The Society of Statistics has just made public these facts concerning the world's business:

In negotiable paper there is in all the world in round numbers $163,000,000,000 divided among the countries as follows: England, 28 billion dollars; United States 26 billion; France, 21 billion; Germany, 18 billion; Russia, 6 billion; Austria, 5 billion; Italy, between 2 and 3 billion; Japan, 2 billion, other countries 7 to 9 billion.

There are in the world 614,224 miles of railway. Of these, 315,147 miles are in North and South America; 203,246 in Europe, the remainder, about 95,000 miles, in Asia, Africa and Oceania. The average value in Europe, per kilometre (five-eighths of a mile) is about $80,000. In the other countries the average is but $43,000.

International commerce at the end of 1910 is valued at from 26 to 27 billion dollars; public debts (European) contracted in war preparations are over 30 billion dollars; the annual war debt is over a billion. In conclusion, M. Alfred Neymarch, who compiled the figures says:

Never were there more negotiable papers. Never was the international commerce figure higher. Never was there a greater number of miles of railways in exploitation. Never were the commercial relations of the peoples of the world more active. Never were the public debts bigger; the war budgets larger, or taxes so high. Never was the tax-payer more heavily burdened.

LONG JOURNEYS FOR WEDDING—END COLLEGE ROMANCE

DENVER, Jan. 8.—In order to attend the wedding of his youngest daughter, Miss Louise Kayser, Charles Kayser, a miner, traveled by horseback 1400 miles from Candelaria, Nev., to Denver. Adolph Kurtz traveled 9000 miles from Brazil to meet Miss Kayser, his bride-to-be, and Miss Kayser traveled from Nevada to Denver over 1000 miles by rail. Miss Kayser and Kurtz arrived here yesterday. The father of Miss Kayser completed his long horseback ride to Denver last Thursday.

The wedding, which will take place next Sunday, will be the climax of a college romance.

BREAKS UP A COLD IN SEVERAL HOURS

An Effective Way to Cure a Bad Cold and End Grippe
Misery

There is not one grain of quinine in Pape's Cold Compound, which, when taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will surely end the gripe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal affections, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

FAMOUS NAMES IN MIRE OF SCANDAL

Julian Hawthorne and Josiah Quincy Indicted With Others For Fraud

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Five men, two of whom bear family names that have been famous throughout the world for generations, were held yesterday to answer to indictments by the federal government, charging conspiracy and use of the mails to defraud innocent investors by the sale of mining stocks. The defendants, who were arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields, are:

Julian Hawthorne, journalist-promoter, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the famous American novelist, residence, Mt. Vernon.

Josiah Quincy, ex-mayor of Boston, formerly assistant secretary of state under President Cleveland and at present a member of the Transit Commission of Boston.

Albert Freeman, well-known stock promoter, director and member of advisory committee of the Hawthorne Silver and Iron Mines, Limited, residing at Ramsey, N. J.

John McKinnon, secretary-treasurer of the Hawthorne Mining Company, residing in Brooklyn.

Dr. William J. Morton, nerve specialist, with apartments in Riverside Drive.

G. A. R. OFFICIALS TO PLAN FOR BIG 1912 LOS ANGELES MEET

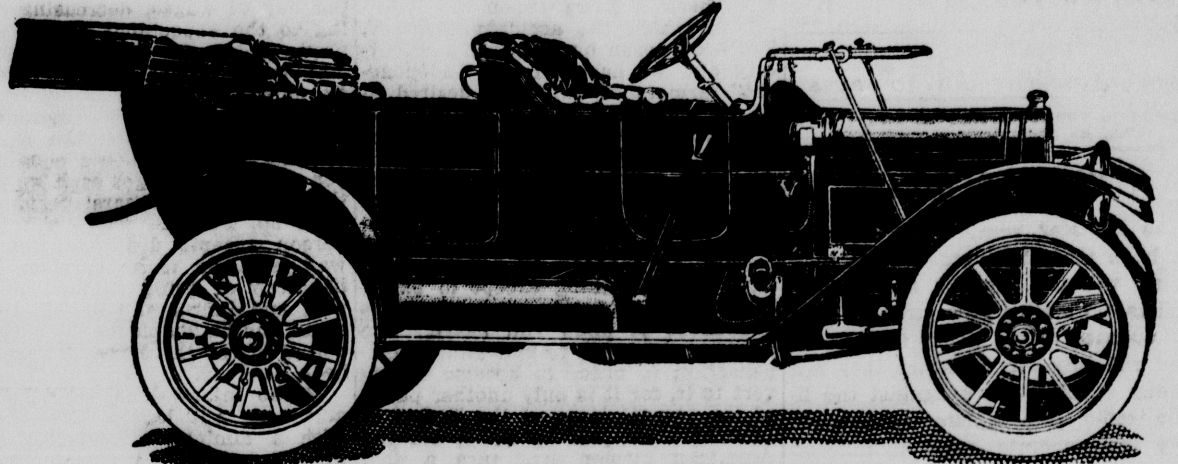

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—National officials of the Grand Army of the Republic and the heads of the affiliated organizations will arrive in Los Angeles tonight to approve plans for the national encampment, to be held in this city next fall, at a date to be fixed while the officials are here.

This will be the last national encampment of the Grand Army west of the Rocky Mountains. It is predicted, and for that and other reasons it is expected that the attendance will be unusually large. At least 50,000 persons from all over the United States are expected to be present at the encampment, and the local committee of arrangements is expecting that the parade of the veterans will be witnessed by at least half a million people.

The Grand Army officials who will arrive today will constitute a quorum of the executive committee of that organization. The delegation will be headed by Judge Harvey M. Trimble of Princeton, Ill., commander-in-chief of the Grand Army.

California: It's History and Romance

By JOHN S. McGROARTY

BOOK that you will SIT UP NIGHTS to READ

It is a one-volume story of the most wonderful state in the world told in the language of a poet. Every phrase is a song; every statement is a fact. It thrills and thrills and thrills.

Eloquent, yet concise; beautiful, yet solid; fascinating, yet instructive; it contains all that is essential and is a portrayal of California by the Golden State's most gifted and best loved writer.

Adapted to youth, middle-aged and elderly persons alike, it meets the universal demand of all for a single-volume history of California. It is very valuable to the student, not only for the knowledge it contains but also as a study in word-painting and phraseology.

This work has been reviewed and passed upon by the most eminent historians and literary critics of California, to their complete satisfaction.

In one volume, thoroughly indexed, beautifully illustrated, splendidly bound and printed in good readable type, it is the most valuable book on the Holiday counter. Be sure that some member of your family receives it as a Christmas remembrance in order that it may have a place in your home.

Written by a Californian, published by a California House, it fulfills in every respect your choicest demand. Sold at all bookstores, or address

A WORD TO WOMEN

The Register ventures to express the hope that the women of Orange county will not register as prohibitionists, no matter how strongly they feel opposed to the liquor traffic. Indeed, the only way in which they can do any effective work against the liquor traffic is to register as Republicans or Democrats, so as to take an active and efficient part in securing the election of men who will enforce the prohibitory laws we have; or who will, if legislative officers amend the present laws or enact new ones, as may seem necessary.

There is grave danger of mistake on the part of women in this respect; for nearly all women are prohibitionists at heart, but many of them do not realize the difference between prohibitionist spelled with a big P and prohibitionist spelled with a small p. A political or party prohibitionist is powerless in this state, but a prohibitionist in principle allied and working with either the Democratic or Republican party—especially the Republican because it is the majority party in this state—can do much towards attaining the end towards which the party prohibitionist has so long but unsuccessfully (except indirectly) striven.

We believe it is the duty and great opportunity of every woman who wants to do something towards moral and economic reform, whether in respect to the liquor traffic or the suppression of graft or political incompetency or corruption to register and work with the dominant party in state and nation.

SERVING HUMAN LIFE

A short time ago the national society of undertakers met and discussed death rates. The conference showed that in practically every city in the United States represented at the meeting, the death rate had fallen remarkably in the last few years.

In some parts of the country it is said that the death rate has dropped 30 per cent or more within the past year. The undertaking business has ceased to be profitable in many communities. Following on the footsteps of this conference comes announcements from the bureau of vital statistics that confirms the "gloomy" forecasts of the undertakers. This is getting to be a poor country for the burying business.

Increased sanitation in cities and the widespread doctrine of hygiene are probably responsible. Certainly the enemies of tuberculosis must be given a great deal of credit for their part in telling the people how to conserve their health.

If these forces, working independently and under handicaps, can accomplish such results, what might not be done with national and state bureaus of health organized to work scientifically and in unison for the conservation of human life from the toll of ignorance?

MODERN TAXATION

Wisconsin will try a new kind of taxation next year which is believed to be as fair as any yet devised. It is a phase of the much-talked-of income tax.

Under it no income less than $800 a year will be taxed. The exemption limit is raised $200 by marriage and $200 additional for each child. Besides this a sliding scale is provided for incomes as they grow larger. For the average family the tax will not begin until the income reaches $1600 or $1800. A man with a wife and two children and an income of $300 a month will pay only about one third of one week's income.

There are few operations of the government which have incurred so much criticism and yet made so little progress as taxation. A really just and successful method has yet to be devised, and the step to be made by Wisconsin may show the way toward something better.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Why the Farmer Was Included

Contributed by the Industrial Accident Board.

(Third Article)

In our second article in this series we showed that the burden of industrial accident, which should all along have been a charge upon the industry in which the accident occurred, has been borne by Property and Poverty and we asked if the "independent" farmers of California desired to be so subsidized, well knowing that they will not when they come to know where that subsidy comes from. And we hold that those legislators who have been quick to forefend the farmer in this matter, through the assumption that the farmer must of necessity be opposed to compensation have done anything except to pay a merited tribute to the farmers' soundness of mind and heart. The farmer only needs to understand compensation in order to become a convert to it, for it is only another phase of the eternal issue of the Rights of Man to no appeal of which did the American farmer ever turn a deaf ear.

Let us first give heed to the extent to which the Roseberry law imposes upon agriculture the hazards of that industry. When a workman is injured his loss, aside from the maiming and suffering, of which the Roseberry law takes no account, is measured by loss of earning power. If the injury is so slight as to lay him off for only one week the injured person bears the whole loss. If the farmer is boarding him he will probably continue to board him until he is able to work. In fact very many farmers will allow the injured man's wages to go on while he is convalescing. In such cases the farmer is already doing more than the Roseberry law required of him and the law will make that burden lighter than heavier.

If the injured farm hand loses more than a week of industrial time the farmer who employs him will be liable under the law for 65 per cent of the wages the injured man has been receiving until he is able to work. That is the farmer's share of the loss. The injured person's share is 35 per cent of the loss of earning power and the maiming and suffering he has endured. Is there any question as to which gets the better end of this bargain?

If the injury proves fatal or permanent and totally incapacitates the injured man the loss sustained is what the man would have earned during all the rest of his life. Actuaries have estimated that to be, at 20 years of age, $3342 for each dollar per day of wages, decreasing according to the expectancy of life as one grows older. Of this total loss the employing farmer is asked to bear as much as the hired hand would have earned had he continued at work for three years, the same to be paid in installments equalling 65 per cent of his wages each week until the whole three years' earnings are used up. For his share the injured person accepts death, if the injury was fatal, or, if he survives it, the handicap of going through life crippled and infirm and unable to work at all and he shoulders the whole burden after the three years' wages have been used up.

If the injury does not totally disable one, but leaves him a cripple with a diminished earning power, then the employing farmer pays him 65 per cent of the difference between what he was able to earn before he was hurt and what he will probably be able to earn after he was hurt until he has exhausted what would have come to him and he been able to keep on at work for three years. Again, allowing that neither party was to blame (for blame scarcely enters into calculations under the Roseberry law) and the loss is shared, which bears the heavier part of that share the farmer, who is out what the injured man would have earned in three years, or the farm hand either loses his life or goes through life a cripple with little or no earning capacity left him?

The reason why blame is left out of consideration under the Roseberry law is that the issue of compensation is not between man and man, but between society and industry, society demanding that every industry that is allowed to be conducted shall pay for its own raw materials, its own labor cost, its own fire risk, and its accident risk as well, to the end that cripples and paupers may not be made and tossed aside right and left for Property and Poverty to take care of as best (or worst) they may. Liability for damages is founded in private justice, liability for compensation is founded in social justice. Of the two social justice ranks highest and best and is the more easily attained.

Noted Men of Many Nations Seek Cause of High Prices

FROM THE SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN.

Backed by an imposing array of prominent economists, financiers, editors, statesmen and politicians, a movement for the establishment of an international commission on the cost of living is now well under way. The object, as summarized in a communication to the American press, is "to gather all available facts as to recent changes in wages, cost of living and prices generally throughout the world and to make international comparisons; to secure evidence as to the main cause of these changes and of international differences; to discuss possible remedies."

Provided the American financiers and politicians in the list of indorsees do not use this plan to block remedial legislation while the world-wide inquiry is in progress, there can be no reasonable objection to the proposed commission. Accurate information as to changes in the purchasing power of the dollar and other monetary units would prove of value, as also would be similar information concerning the purchasing power of incomes. However, it will take some time to collect the desired data, and it will not do for our nation to stand still while the work is going on. Good measures designed to reduce unjust tariff rates and check the extortions of great corporations must not be delayed. Other nations are feeling the pinch of rising prices, but the United States is the greatest sufferer. We cannot wait for concerted legislative action by many nations, for that may not be brought about for years, and if the over-supply of gold is found to be the main cause of the world's trouble such legislation will surely be recommended by the international commission as the only way to abate the evil. Our nation may not be able to do much alone, but we can do something, and that something should be done at once. Our money kings would be delighted if we should agree to "grin and bear it" until the cost of living commission reports, but this is a greater favor than we can afford to grant, even to our patient and modest "benefactors."

SEEK ROCKPILE AS A HOBO REMEDY

Local Officers Say Tramp Problem Needs Some Such a Dose of Medicine

KNIGHTS OF ROAD FAR TOO PLENTIFUL

Stone hammers Said to Be Inducement to Keep Away Weary Willie Tourists

Local authorities are considering the advisability of starting a rockpile. The reason for considering the matter is that hoboos are getting far too plentiful for comfort, and it is believed that a rockpile better than anything else ever devised gives a hobo a wholesome desire to avoid contact with the town that has the rockpile.

Complaint comes from every city in Southern California to the effect that the hobo crop is unusually large and offensive. San Diego in particular is having a great deal of trouble with the knights of the brake-beam.

Santa Ana Officers have had great difficulty in keeping the hoboos moving on. They have tried to keep the city free from the pest by ordering them to get out of town. Only the ones who were most suspicious looking and offensive were taken in. That method seems to have failed to accomplish the desired results. Many of those ordered to leave move off a quarter of a mile or so and seek out another barn or another box-car for slumber. A good many of them have been on the main streets of the city begging for money. Last Friday Justice Cox had four husky fellows who were arrested, two on Fourth street and two on Main street. None of them had worked for several weeks. This information came from their own statements.

The city has been using a small gang of prisoners cleaning streets. This is good as far as it goes. The trouble is that but a small percentage of those under sentence can be used in that way. Eight or nine men are as many as ought to be sent out under one man.

Constable Heard, who as a city policeman had considerable experience in handling hoboos, states that in years past the rockpile has always had a good effect. A hobo hates a rockpile, and he will walk around a town rather than run the risk of being arrested and put to hard work breaking rocks.

"One year when we started the rockpile we were running in from twelve to twenty hoboos every night," said he. "By the time the rockpile had been running a month or six weeks the hoboos up and down the line knew it, and they avoided Santa Ana. While some other towns were still bothered with them, we were very near free of them."

Justice Cox, who has held strongly to the opinion that the thing to do was to keep the hoboos moving, states that the situation is becoming too strained for that method to handle the situation.

Two or three of the city trustees have expressed an opinion that the rockpile ought to be started at once, and it is possible that the matter will be taken up at the meeting of the trustees tonight. For the last three or four years the city has paid the guard and has taken whatever rock has been broken. It is proposed to use the rock in filling chuk-holes.

"I favor the establishment of a rockpile," said City Marshal Wilson. "We have tried to keep the hoboos moving, but they are getting too numerous. They seem to have found out that keeping them moving is all that is expected of the police here, and they don't move very far. Lately they have gotten to spreading out over the city, and we have to do something. I don't know whether the hoboos will break enough rock to meet the expenses that will come in running it, but it will pay big in getting the city rid of hoboos."

IN TOUCH WITH FRIENDS and RELATIVES

A GRANDMOTHER may not be as spry as she used to be, but she is in close touch with her world for all that.

The telephone enables her to make as many calls as she pleases, and in all sorts of weather.

Formal gatherings have their place, but it is the many little intimate visits over the telephone that keep people young and interested.

Grandmother's telephone visits do not stop with her own town. The Long Distance Service of the Bell Telephone takes her to other towns, and allows relatives and friends to chat with her although hundreds of miles away.

W.C.T.U. CRUSADE MEETING

White Ribboners Recall Stirring Events of Historic Crusade

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. L. Innes, 705 North Main street.

This is to be annual Crusade meeting, when memories of the stirring days that resulted in a worldwide organized temperance movement, will be recalled. There are several who participated in historic crusade, and some of all these, are always present at the crusade meeting to tell their personal experiences. All the members of the W. C. T. U. are requested to attend tomorrow's meeting and help make this one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The public in general is also cordially invited to be present.

Philharmonic Society

The Philharmonic Society will meet at the home of Dr. Waffle, 702 Bush street, Tuesday evening, January 9.

Eloped From Mother

Robert B. Whelan and Katherine B. Wallace of Los Angeles, were married here on Saturday morning, Jan. 6, 1912, by the Rev. Paul E. Wright at the First Christian church. The bride eloped from the mother, with the full consent of the father, he dismissing the bride couple from his home at Santa Anita, with his blessing and a pair of old shoes for luck, the latter gaily dangling from the rear of the auto in which they made their elopement. From Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Whelan motored to San Diego for a week's honeymoon.

Eastern Dances Tabcoed

The "Turkey Trot," the "Texas Tommy" and the "Grizzly Bear" dances have been tabcoed by the leaders of Los Angeles society as being coarse, ungraceful and originating in questionable quarters. While it is possible, say some of those called on to express an opinion, to modify these dances and give them with grace and refinement, they are condemned as being near the "danger line" and of degrading tendency.

The West seems to be setting an example of decency to the effete East along many lines, especially in the social world. Amusements in Southern California as enjoyed by its society people are apparently more wholesome and refined than those enjoyed by the idle rich in the larger cities of the Middle West and East.

Monday Club

The Monday Club will hold an open meeting tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Tople, 320 South Main street.

All members and their wives are expected to be present. The honorary members are cordially invited to attend.

Prof. H. O. Eggen will read the paper of the evening, Subject: "The Passing of the Manchu Dynasty."

CLASSICAL PROGRAM

Mrs. Padgham's Pupils Rendering Number From Great Composers

The guests at the monthly recital given by the pupils of Mrs. A. J. Padgham at her home, 208 Ninth street, last Saturday afternoon, were given genuine pleasure in the classical program presented. The composers whose numbers were played were Bach, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, and not only were the musical selections most creditably rendered, but original papers including one written by Gertrude Utt and another by Ruth Andrews, proved that a real interest was felt by the class in the great composers and their music.

The program follows:

"Bach" (paper) Gertrude Utt
"Audiante and Rondo" Bach
Mrs. Padgham

(a) "Nocturne" from Midsummer
Nights Dream Mendelssohn
(b) "Melody" from Concerto in G
Minor Mendelssohn

Roberta Dawes
"Spring Song" Mendelssohn
Gertrude Utt

"Beethoven" (paper) Ruth Andrews
"Melody in G" Beethoven

Grace Smiley
"Bagatelle" op 33, No. 6 Beethoven
Mildred Marchant

(a) "Andante" from Kreutzer
Sonata Beethoven
(b) "Adagio" from Sonata No. 2 op 1 Beethoven

"SEE AMERICA FIRST" IS CAUSING EUROPE ALARM

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The "See America First" movement in America is causing grave alarm throughout Europe and especially here. "La Presse" publishes this:

"Rich Americans have a habit which we find excellent: It is to come to Europe, and particularly to France, to spend the bigger part of their incomes. A reaction against this custom has set in. . . . Anyhow we shall have to look sharp. If this movement should become effective, it would prove a very grave thing for our commerce."

SEEK TO ABOLISH DEATH BY HANGING

The Anti-Capital Punishment League Hope to Save Quarterette From Scaffold

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A campaign to abolish capital punishment in this state by striking from the law books the provision requiring that murder shall be punishable by death will be inaugurated in San Francisco and Oakland this week.

Behind the movement is the Anti-Capital Punishment League of California, whose secretary, J. H. Young, stated last night that the right of initiative given to the people at the recent constitutional amendment election would be invoked.

That the movement was started at this time is due to the fact that on next Friday four men are doomed to die on the scaffold. The league expects to prevent the executions. The murderers scheduled to die are: George Figueroa, sentenced from Los Angeles.

J. Burke, sentenced from San Diego.

J. Burns, sentenced from San Francisco.

Mark Wilkins, sentenced from Oakland.

According to Secretary Young, Governor Johnson has declared his opposition to hanging.

LA FOLLETTE ASSERTS PEOPLE ARE AROUSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Robert M. La Follette and his party who have been touring Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois, arrived in Washington at 8 o'clock last night.

Senator La Follette, discussing his trip, said:

"In thirty years of campaigning, I never had larger meetings nor addressed audiences more attentive, interested and responsive, whether in the crowded halls of the larger cities or in the gatherings which stood at the rear of the car. Everywhere the people are aroused. They are determined to have some voice in their government."

SOUTH EXPECTED TO AID FIGHT ON MEDITERRANEAN FLY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Representative Kahn has received a letter from O. St. John Gilbert of Phoenix, who stated that he has recently been in Hawaii and that the ravages of the Mediterranean fly have been extended to the cotton boll. Mr. Gilbert states that the danger from the spread of the pest cannot be overestimated and that he is pleased to see that the Department of Agriculture is planning measures to combat the fly.

With the knowledge that cotton is not exempt from attack, the support of Southern Congressmen is expected for the bill introduced by Representatives Hayes and Kahn, asking for an appropriation of $50,000 to fight the pest.

IRRIGATION LEGISLATION NEEDED IN NORTH IS NOT WANTED BY THIS SECTION

Riverside Press: The annual meeting of the Tri-County Reformation committee convened in the Glenwood adobe Thursday morning. In the absence of Mayor Peters, who had been called to Los Angeles, the members of the committee were welcomed to Riverside by J. F. Hanna, president of the city council, who expressed his appreciation of the valuable work done by the committee.

Report of Chairman

Chairman Cattle presented the following report:

This report is intended as a summary of the most important work of the committee outlined at the meetings through the year and more in detail for the past three months.

Appropriations

At the regular session of the legislature in 1911 a bill was introduced by Senator Estudillo calling for an appropriation of $10,000, a promise having been secured from the United States forester, Mr. Graves, that the forest service would allot an amount equal to that appropriated by the state of California for improvement on the San Bernardino mountains. Unfortunately, the legislators at the regular session were very much in doubt as to the amount of revenue that would be received by the state under constitutional amendment No. 1, so that it looked for a time as though no appropriation would be secured at that session. However, our representatives in the legislature finally succeeded in getting a bill through for $5000, which meant of course that the forest service would allot an equal amount; making $10,000 in all for improvement work. Probably on account of the uncertainty as to the revenue to be secured by the state, the bill provided that one-half of the amount should be available July 1, 1911, and the other half available July 1, 1912, so that only a very small amount was available for improvement and extension of the fire protective system during the past season. At the meeting in Orange county in May this committee authorized the contribution of $1000 toward the cleaning of the fire lines in the San Bernardino mountains. It was understood at that time that the balance due from San Bernardino county should be applied to the payment of this appropriation. As there were not sufficient funds received to pay the amount authorized, only $450 was paid on that contribution.

Mr. Charlton advises us that the forest service set aside $5000 to be expended in improvement work, in addition to the $2500 of state money. It is impracticable to do much work in the way of construction of fire lines and trails during the summer, as it is almost impossible to get men at that time to do that class of work, but Forest Supervisor Charlton has laid out and already commenced the construction of more fire lines. In this regard he says:

"I have already started the construction of fire lines in Lytle Creek canyon and along the front of the San Bernardino mountains. The Rialto people have promised me $1000 to do the work in Lytle creek. In addition to this, I am spending $600 of the state funds. I have also set aside $800 of the state funds for the cleaning of fire breaks in the San Bernardino mountains and $550 for the construction of fire lines along the front. The balance of the fund is as yet not allotted."

He further says: "This year we shall devote our efforts largely to the construction of fire lines, not fire breaks. These lines will follow the backbone of the ridges. They will be about 12 feet wide and are designed primarily to render the country accessible in time of fire. I planned on confining this work first of all to the Santa Ana, Mill and Lytle creek watersheds, which are the three most important watersheds in the San Bernardino mountains."

To construct these lines at the time a fire is burning requires a great deal of time. . . . By having them already constructed on the most important watersheds and in the sections most liable to fire, I believe we can more successfully combat the fire should one occur.

Constructed as they are along the backbones of the ridges, they render the canyons on both sides accessible. They are inexpensive affairs. They might, under favorable conditions, serve as a base from which to back fire, and if it was necessary to widen them out before back firing, a number of men can be employed at one time to do this, because they can be strung out along the line.

Co-operation in Fighting Fire

We have also made informal arrangements with a number of so-called "forest agents," who will represent the forest service as the bases of supply in time of fire. The organization has as yet not been completed, but will be this winter, so that we shall be prepared for next season. These agents will each agree to furnish upon call a certain number of fire fighters with whom we have made previous arrangements. They will, be easily summoned, and in case of fire in the mountains the ranger need only telephone the agent, who will summon the men, arrange the distribution and see that they are forwarded. This will not only be a great material help to us, but will settle a problem which has always been a great worry to the ranger, who, patrolling a fire back in the mountain, often thinks, "Suppose I should discover a bad fire, how could I get assistance without having to leave and go to the valley to get men?"

Reforestation

Mr. Charlton further says: "We have just completed the planting of over 7,000 conifers near the Seven Oaks resort in the Santa Ana canyon. This work is of course an experiment, but we hope for good results. . . . We shall also plant out next month about 20,000 eucalyptus in the foothills immediately north of Del Rosa. The eucalyptus planting we have already done there has so far as the cultivated lands are concerned been a great success. We are now trying to determine whether or not we can grow them by simply planting them out in the chaparral without either irrigation or cultivation."

Mountain Fire

tesian basin. During the season of 1911 close estimates by different people would fix the amount at 10,000 inches for 100 days. Of course it will never be known just how much additional water has been derived from this work, but the Gage Canal Company, through its engineering department, reports that that company has received during the irrigation season of 1911, 300 inches additional flow, and that the water plane has averaged practically five feet higher during 1911 than during the preceding season. Independent measurements of both the additional flow of water and the level of the water plane have been taken by the engineering department of the River-Water Company, and this company reports receiving 650 inches additional water from the wells and streams having their source in the San Bernardino artesian basin. And the engineers of that company, by measurements taken on the first day of each month during the summer season, have arrived at exactly the same conclusion as the engineers of the Gage Canal Company, that the water plane stood five feet higher during the summer of 1911 than during the summer of 1910, which means that all of the wells in the San Bernardino basin have that additional pressure on them, with a consequent increase in flow of water.

The increase in flow of water in the ditches on upper Warm creek, namely McKenzie, Shay, Rable Dam and Hawes-Talmadge, show as marked an increase as the two systems above mentioned. From 1904 until 1908 there was practically no water flowing in any of these ditches during the summer time. In September, 1908, the McKenzie ditch had 75 inches, the Shay 59.4 inches, the Rable Dam, 34.2 inches, and the Hawes-Talmadge was dry. I do not have the measurements at hand for the year 1909-10, but in September, 1911, measurements were as follows: McKenzie, 92 inches; Shay, 95 inches; Rable Dam, 71 inches; Hawes-Talmadge, 8 inches, and all of these ditches received a much greater flow of water during the early part of the summer of 1911 than they received during the five or six years preceding, at the same time of year; showing conclusively that the benefit derived from the spreading of storm water is not confined to those who are actually carrying on the work, but is being shared by all who have their source of water supply in the San Bernardino artesian basin. From these statements it might appear that the people of Riverside and San Bernardino counties are the only people who are benefited by the spreading of storm water, but as these companies received an increased flow of gravity and artesian water, they do less pumping, and consequently do not diminish the underground flow of water in the Santa Ana river, which goes to replenish and maintain the flow of water for the ditches of Orange county. I have at several times in the last year stated that this increased flow is not due to an increased rainfall, and will repeat the same statement here. The rainfall for the past five years has gradually decreased from 16.19 inches in 1906-7, to 11.58 in 1909-10 and 11.78 inches in 1910-11; while the average rainfall for the past 15 years is 10.72 inches.

The Water Conservation Association is now constructing a new conduit to divert water from the Santa Ana river that will have a capacity of about 5000 inches additional water, so that it will be possible during the period of the year when water is available, to spread fully 15,000 inches of water. I believe this work has been carried on long enough and sufficient evidence has been obtained to now make the statement that we can maintain and regulate our flow of water for irrigation and domestic use by utilizing the flood waters which formerly ran to waste from the streams having their sources in the San Bernardino mountains.

Keach on Water Commission
E. E. Keach then spoke on the question, "Does the State Need a Water Commission?" Following is a brief summary of his remarks:

The scope of such a commission might be threefold, inquisitorial, administrative and judicial. The bill proposed at the special session of the legislature which was opposed by this committee, gave the water commission all of these powers. The amended bill, which was introduced later, but which also failed to pass, was less objectionable as it simply gave the commission power to investigate and make records regarding water rights; these records would be prima facie evidence in any litigation.

tion, but would be subject to judicial review.

In California the water has never belonged to the public; the federal and state government might have held the water as a public asset, but did not do so, allowing appropriation by private parties from the very organization of the state. The result is that not a stream now remains in California on which the public has any complete or undisputed right. In other words, there is not a stream on which some private appropriation has not been made; to make the water public property the state or federal government would have to control the entire frontage of the banks of the stream on both sides.

All the waters in Southern California have been appropriated and put to beneficial use, but this is not true in the central and northern part of the state. The Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, for example, carry a vast amount of unappropriated water to the sea. In the discussion of any proposed water legislation we must recognize that physically and legally there is a sharp contrast between Southern California and the rest of the state. A bill might be framed which would practically let Southern California alone and give a state water commission the power to regulate the use of surplus water in the streams throughout the rest of the state. Great developments are possible there through the organization of irrigation districts.

No such system of water laws is now possible here in California as is in force in Utah and Wyoming, where all water rights are vested in the public. In those states a water commission can do out the water as it thinks best. The work of such a commission in Southern California would result in endless litigation. It would take the lifetime of any commission to adjudicate the water of the Santa Ana river alone.

A law can be framed that would be fair to Southern California by excepting from the jurisdiction of the state water commission rights already adjudicated. It is better for us to work for such a law, co-operating with irrigation interests in other parts of the state, rather than to oppose the general proposition of a water commission.

Chairman Cuttle, who in conjunction with Mr. Keach had represented the committee in Sacramento, in opposition to the water commission bill, endorsed what Mr. Keach said and stated that he was very much pleased with the substitute bill which was presented but not passed. He believed that a law could be framed along these general lines that would be beneficial to the rest of the state and not objectionable to Southern California.

Election of Officers
On reconvening after lunch the following officers were elected by the committee for the ensuing year:

Chairman—Francis Cuttle.
Recording Secretary—E. J. Yokum.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss C. J. Jensen.

Treasurer—E. D. Roberts.
The budget for 1912 was approved; it calls for $2000.

Placentia was selected as the place of the next meeting, which will be held in May.

The rest of the session was devoted to a discussion of irrigation legislation. The principal speakers were Frank Adams and C. E. Tait, who are in charge of the irrigation investigation that is being conducted by the federal and state authorities.

HAD LIONS FOR PETS BUT NOW THEY ARE IN A MENAGERIE

LONDON, Jan. 8.—It has been the hobby of T. F. Barclay, of Colney Park, to keep a pair of lions to play with. They were being released from their sleeping quarters for their morning romp when one of them attacked Barclay, knocked him down, and clawed his neck. A gamekeeper frightened the beast away by firing blank cartridges. Barclay's first act on recovering consciousness was to order his pets sold to a traveling menagerie.

LENIENCY FOR SCHMITZ

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Although former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz seems to be in a fair way to be tried for bribery in Judge Lawlor's court, twelve indictments pending against him in Judge Dunne's court probably will be dropped Saturday. Some of the true bills charge receiving and others giving bribes. The trial is set for January 18.

Get Rid of Your RHEUMATISM

No resort anywhere is better equipped or more pleasant for those suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia or Asthma than Arrowhead Hot Springs.

Tourists—Spend a Few Days Here

For the benefit of tourists and those not accustomed to California winters, let us say that no spot in all Southern California offers so much in the way of clean, healthful, invigorating pleasure as a week or week-end spent at this glorious resort at the foot of the mountains.

All rooms are heated with natural hot water. Everything imaginable is done for your comfort and welfare.

To return east and not experience the enjoyment of a few days here, would mean a lasting regret. Read what these people say about Arrowhead Hot Springs.

Major Benjamin C. Truman, says: "I had suffered from rheumatism for about 12 weeks. I stayed four weeks at Arrowhead and took the mud and tub baths daily for fourteen days, and lo! my rheumatism left me."

Mr. C. Seligman, of M. A. Newmark & Co., says: "The Arrowhead Springs mud baths are a wonder, and I, as one of the sufferers of rheumatism, cannot speak too highly of them."

Judge Geo. H. Hutton of the Superior Court of California writes: "I found the hotel a most agreeable and satisfactory abiding place and the mud and hot water worked a complete cure for my sciatica."

Mr. C. C. Oswald, formerly in the famous Harvey Service is in charge of this hotel. The Chef is also a trained Harvey man. Patrons are assured of every courtesy and excellent service at all times. Arrowhead is a beautiful place to spend a few days—the rates are $3 per day and upwards.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The firm tone of the vegetable market was again manifest. Under a practically bare market prices were held very firm. While only one change in quotations was noted on the Produce Exchange, that of cauliflower, which was advanced 25 cents a crate, there was a marked advance in prices on the street. Green beans were sold up to 16 cents a pound. The entire vegetable list showed an advance of from 1 to 5 cents. Dealers are deluged with orders from outside points, but are unable to fill them, owing to the scarcity of supplies.

Not a single change has been made in the fruit market as far as quotations are concerned since the first of the year. The situation at present is that of steadiness. Dealers are just moving out about enough storage stock to meet immediate demands. Oranges are arriving more freely, but the demand is not over heavy. The best fancy packed oranges are selling at $2.50 a box. Apples are in fair demand, sales being confined to small retailers.

The egg market was strong. An other advance of 1 cent on local fresh stock was noted. Canned eggs sold at 38 cents, and case counts at 34 cents a dozen. Storage eggs were unchanged, the call being light on this variety. Arrivals were 188 cases.

The market on creamery butter showed strength under a heavy demand, and the price was advanced 1 1/2 cents per pound. Other grades were unchanged, the market ruling steady. Receipts were 16,627 pounds. The cheese market was in good shape. Eastern singles, twins and longhorns advanced 1 cent under a heavy demand and limited holdings. Receipts were 1194 pounds.

The potato market was steady. Considerable stock is being shipped to outside points. Oregon stock was in best demand. Arrivals were 415 sacks.

No onions were reported in. The market was firm. Sweet potatoes advanced 50 cents a hundredweight on good stock. The low level, $2.50, was held throughout the day. Receipts were 286 sacks.

Apple receipts were 61 boxes.

Never
"Never" is a word which is wrongly defined in the dictionary.

In that book we gather the understanding that "never" means not at all, forevermore.

But—
Each day in our broad land young women vow that they will never forgive young men.

Men lift their right hands to high heaven and swear that they will never take another drink.

Husbands promise never to forget to write every day.

Wives promise never to make another extravagant and foolish purchase.

Candidates aver that they will never run for office again.

Women say they will never speak to some one any more.

In all these cases "never" means any length of time from one hour to four days.—Life.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

SAYS HE WON'T BE SENTENCED

Man Convicted of Stealing
Hay at Garden Grove
Declares Innocence

Man Who Jumped Board Bill Pays it and Expenses and Is Discharged

Declaring that he would not be sentenced today or any other day, Manuel Rico went back to jail this morning. Justice Cox set 9 o'clock tomorrow morning as the time for sentence, and at that time, whether Rico feels agreeable to it or not, the justice will pass sentence.

Rico was arrested December 14 on a charge of stealing four bales of hay from S. C. Oertly of Garden Grove.

Tracks were followed by Oertly and Jerome Fulson to a place at Winterburg, where Rico's horses were found eating part of one of the bales of hay. In court this morning Oertly positively identified the hay as his, by corn shucks and leaves sticking to the bales.

Rico declared he got the hay from Fernando Garcia, who lived at the house where Rico was found. The weak part of Rico's story was that he said he got the hay three days before it was stolen from Oertly's barn.
Justice Cox found the man guilty as charged but Rico refuses to be sentenced, and the justice had to set a time for that law formality.

Held on Warrant

A man named McFarland is held on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper of Los Alamitos. He is to appear in the Los Alamitos court.

Thirty Days

Justice Howard of Anaheim sentenced Harry Grin to thirty days in jail for fighting on the street.

Quinn Paid Up

On Saturday Deputy Sheriff Law arrested Jesus Quinn, employed at El Modena, on a warrant sent from San Jacinto. Quinn was charged with beating a board bill. Quinn paid the bills and costs, amounting to $50, and the case was dismissed and Quinn allowed to return to his work.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

ARE TO HOLD
AN ELECTION

Stipulation Entered Into in the Fullerton School Site
Controversy

Remittitur in Clopton vs. Clopton Case Received By the County Clerk

By a stipulation filed with the county clerk today, the people of Fullerton are to hold an election to determine whether the new Fullerton Union High School shall be built on what is known as the Krug site or on what is known as the Central site. If two-thirds of the people vote for the Central site, the school will be built there. Otherwise it will go to the Central tract site.

The stipulation was entered in the injunction suit brought by C. C. Chapman and W. T. Brown against L. P.
Drakem, W. J. Travers, L. B. Steward, J. T. Launer and J. W. Newall, members of the high school board.
The agreement entered into by Attorneys Head & Marks for the plaintiffs and Attorney Keech for the defendants is that County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell shall proceed to call the election, which is to determine whether the site shall be changed from the Krug to the Central, and in the meantime the injunction preventing the school board from commencing operations in building shall continue in force.

It seems that a committee of citizens of Fullerton selected the Central tract site as the best for the location of the polytechnic high school. The school board officially settled upon the Krug site. That there is a strong opposition to the Krug site is evidenced by the bringing of the suit, which followed a petition to the county superintendent calling for the selection for a change of site. Once a site is established, it takes a two-thirds vote to change it.
That is the reason why those favoring the Central tract have to beat those favoring the Krug site by a vote of two to one. If the two-thirds vote is not secured, the judgment of the court shall be that the Krug site is the legal site. The reason why the injunction was secured was that those who had applied for an election feared that work of building would begin, and that with the work begun it would be harder to get the site changed.

Another District

That the county districts are setting up rapidly has been evidenced a number of times this winter by the formation of new school districts. Today County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell received a petition for the formation of still another district.
It is proposed to form this district and build a school house on the meadow between Ocean View district and Huntington Beach district, taking in parts of these districts and of Fourtain Valley district. About forty children are represented in the petition of parents for the new district. The name proposed for the new district is Alberta.

Case Dismissed

A case that has been in the courts for a number of years has shrdluta in for a number of years was dismissed today on the motion of Attorney Keech. It is an action in which judgment was held by the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank against T.
A. Wells. The judgment evidently has been met.

No Lien Allowed

A remittitur was received by the county clerk today from the supreme court in the case of Jennie Clopton against Hoggatt, Pearle and Hugh Clopton. The appeal was taken by Pearle and Hugh Clopton from an order that made property in Santa Ana and Huntington Beach conveyed by Col. Clopton to Pearle and Hugh Clopton subject to a lien under an order of the court that $500 attorney's fees and $75 a month alimony be given the plaintiff during an appeal that she proposed taking. The ruling of the upper court is that the property transferred to the children by Clopton shall not be subject to that lien.

NO CASCARET USER
EVER HAS HEADACHE

A 10 Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh For Months

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the millions of Cascaret users if they ever have headache.

FINE PENMAN
VISITS SCHOOL

Visitor Instructed the Grade
Teachers How to Start
Those Learning to Write

C. P. Zaner, of Columbus, Ohio, who is said to be one of the world's best penmen and instructors, made a special trip from the northern part of the state to visit the school he was particularly interested in it as it is the only school of its kind in the West, also on account of so many of its students obtaining, and others seeking for, business educator certificates from his school, which is the leading art school in the United States.

Mr. Zaner gave the students an interesting and instructive talk on penmanship, which was greatly appreciated. In his talk he congratulated the students upon having opportunities for a first class business education and stated that the work of the school is rarely equaled.

A meeting of the primary grade teachers was called by Mr. Cranston, at which Mr. Zaner instructed the teachers as to the best way of starting the first grade students upon the subject. He also followed by giving methods for the other grades.
His talk was an inspiration to all who heard him.

A letter of inquiry has been received by the principal from a prospective student of Tacoma, Wash., and another from Colorado.

OLD SOL TO LIGHT
LIGHTHOUSE LAMPS

Clever Arrangement to Operate Warning Lamps Along
Panama Canal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The heat of the sun will be used by the Panama engineers in lighting the lamps in the lighthouses along the canal.
It was announced at Washington today. The sun's rays will fall on copper cylinders so arranged that their expansion from the heat will close the valves in the lamps and shut off the gas. At night when the sun goes down the cooling of the cylinders will automatically open the valves and turn on the gas, which will be lighted by small pilot jets.
By this method it is planned to save a great deal of expense in maintaining light tenders. This will also reduce the consumption of gas.

Incidentally four-fifths of the work of excavating the Panama Canal has been completed. Only 39,669,715 cubic yards of material remain to be removed. The great earth slide in the Culebra cut has been removed with 700 pounds of dynamite.

The Canal Commission has recently authorized the purchase of engines to cost $425,000 for lifting and lowering the tender chains in the locks in order to prevent ships from ramming the lock gates.

A consignment of over 25,000 spiral springs, weighing altogether 640,300 pounds, have been ordered by the commission. They will be placed in the walls of the locks to keep the ships from bumping the concrete masonry.

STATE INSURANCE SEEMS SUCCESS IN WASHINGTON STATE

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 8.—After three months' operation of the industrial insurance law, the State Workmen's Compensation Commission has on hand a total of $388,544. Total collections from the 3385 employers against whom assessments were levied amounted to $415,941, but claims aggregating $26,497 have been paid.
The commissioners say that 100,000 workmen are protected by the state insurance.

So far it has not been necessary to make special assessments on any of the 47 classes included under the law, and all except class 46, powder works, show a balance on the right side. The Dupont Powder Company refused to pay its initial assessment, thus creating a temporary deficit.
The pensions to claimants have been allowed and payments will be made out of the funds on hand.
